

From: MacAddictfan@cs.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/20/02 6:47pm
Subject: Microsoft settlement

Instead of letting Microsoft give a large amount of PC's to poor schools, force them to give competing computer brands to schools. That is the exact opposite of everything that Microsoft has strived for!! Instead of 10 Billion Dollars worth of PC's, give 10 Billion dollars of MACS. That way Microsoft won't be able to make a profit out of this punishment. Giving 10 Billion dollars worth of PC's will only influence schools to purchase PC's in the future, thereby turning this punishment into a profit.

Force Microsoft to use Netscape.com as it's home address, that way Netscape will at least have a fighting chance against Microsoft's free web browser.

Also, force Microsoft to ship alternative operating systems on new PCs. The new MAC OS X, may have the capability to run on an Intel chip in the future, though it hasn't been announced yet.